

The diagram illustrates a server architecture. On the left, there is a stack of five light blue rectangles, with the front-most one labeled "Data Server". To its right is another stack of five light blue rectangles, with the front-most one labeled "Render Server". Four thick black horizontal lines connect the right side of the "Data Server" stack to the left side of the "Render Server" stack. To the right of the "Render Server" stack is a single light blue rectangle labeled "Client", connected to the "Render Server" stack by a single thick black horizontal line.

Data
Server

Render
Server

Client